LITTLEBOROUGH FIRE ENGINEERS TURN TO HURST ACCOUNTANTS

Littleborough-based Alpine Fire Engineers Ltd, which designs designs and installs sprinkler systems and fire equipment in the UK and Europe, has appointed HURST Accountants to help further its business development plans.

The Stockport-based HURST team, led by partner Andrew Milnes, will be carrying out compliance and audit, advising on corporation tax, and looking after the directors' tax affairs.

Said Alpine managing director David Smith: "We are well established in the retail logistics area, installing systems in warehouses for the likes of Marks and Spencer, River Island, Peacocks and B & Q. We are actively targeting other sectors and also increasing our marketing activity.

"Unlike some accountants and business advisors who restrict themselves to reporting on historical company performance, HURST is also helping us look ahead and plan our development strategically. We have ambitious plans to broaden our offering and we're confident HURST will provide support and guidance to us."

Alpine's directors have more than 35 years' experience in all aspects of fire protection. Its designers and engineers provide both public and private sector organisations in this country and overseas with fixed and portable fire protection, including automatic sprinklers, hose-reel systems and mains hydrants.
