Expansion of Reznick Group Litigation Support Service

February 3, 2009, Bethesda, MD – Reznick Group, a top 20 national CPA firm, announces the expansion of their Litigation Support Services practice with the addition of Senior Manager, Dan Dreibelbis.

Dreibelbis, a former Special Agent for the FBI, brings 28 years of experience in forensic accounting and fraud investigation to Reznick Group. He has managed a wide range of investigations from bank, bankruptcy and government fraud, to money laundering and public corruption and embezzlement. Dreibelbis is a frequent speaker on topics relating to forensic accounting and fraud investigation, and a regular columnist for a regional Maryland newspaper.

Dreibelbis will provide accounting analysis, financial analytics and skilled interviewing for Reznick Group's Litigation Support Services practice. "Demand for these services has been increasing, and we anticipate this trend will continue. Dreibelbis' depth of experience in fraud, embezzlement, money laundering and conflict of interest, bolsters our capabilities as we grow this practice area," remarked Ken Baggett, Managing Principal.

Reznick Group's Litigation Support Services provides assistance for legal cases involving embezzlements, vendor fraud, conflict of interest, bankruptcy fraud, economic damages, shareholder disputes, and tax matters. This practice is part of Reznick Group's Valuation Transaction Advisory Group, which is one of the fastest growing valuation and transaction advisory groups in the country. Other services in this group include financial reporting and tax-related valuation services, transaction and strategic advisory, real estate valuation and transaction advisory, and dispute and litigation-related consulting.
