Steve Martucci Joins Reznick Group as Principal, Leads Operational Advisory Consulting Practice

Former KPMG Partner to Help Expand Firm's Tax Compliance, CFO Services

BETHESDA, Md., Feb. 24 /PRNewswire/ -- Reznick Group, a top 20 national CPA firm, today announced the appointment of Steven Martucci, a former KPMG LLP partner, as a Principal based in the firm's Tysons Corner, Va., office.

"The addition of Steve to our management team is further evidence of our commitment to grow Reznick Group with the most talented and experienced resources in the market today," said Ken Baggett, Reznick's Managing Principal and CEO. "Steve's background and experience in structuring the tax and financial operations of Fortune 500 and Global 1000 companies will greatly enhance our capabilities for our clients across the country. We couldn't be happier with Steve's decision to join Reznick Group."

According to Baggett, Martucci now leads Reznick Group's Operational Advisory Consulting Practice, a specialized consulting practice focusing on the operations of tax and financial functions -- from organizational and operational strategic alignment to process and reporting risk management to M&A operational due diligence and post-transaction integration. His responsibilities also include functional outsourcing for tax compliance and CFO type services.

Prior to joining Reznick Group, Martucci co-founded a highly specialized boutique consulting firm where he was instrumental in the development of leading edge technologies that combined the rigorous reporting requirements of finance and tax for multi-national companies. In addition to the development and deployment of technology, he worked with several private equity and venture capital firms on operational due diligence and post-transaction integration services.

Martucci began his career at Ernst & Young in the National Tax Office. Previously, he was also a partner and national practice leader at KPMG LLP. At KPMG, he blended resources from the firm's Consulting, CFO Advisory Services and Tax practices to establish a national operational practice focusing on best practices, strategic analysis and alignment as well as technology deployment services for global finance support functions. Martucci was also responsible for tax function outsourcing, post-transaction integration services and tax risk assessment reviews.
