Reznick Group Launches New Corporate Website

Robust Content, Interactive Design Provides
New Resources, Information for Clients, Business Partners

January 28, 2010 (Bethesda, Md.) – Reznick Group, a top 20 national CPA firm, today announced the launch of its new corporate website www.reznickgroup.com – a vastly improved, content-rich portal for clients and business partners interested in information and resources on the firm’s deep capabilities and industry insights across a number of key industries and service areas.

“Our new website is much more than a simple facelift,” said Ken Baggett, Reznick Group Managing Principal and CEO. “For more than 30 years, we have been the leading accounting firm in industries such as affordable housing, commercial real estate, tax credit financing and now, focus industries like renewable energy and long term healthcare. This new website provides us with an interactive, dynamic platform from which to share those industry insights and thought leadership with clients and communities of interest looking to Reznick Group for perspective and best practices.”

Searching for information, expertise and people on the new website is fast, easy and user-friendly. A fully integrated content management system and solution finder allows users to quickly navigate the site and find information and related services with just a few clicks. New to the Reznick Group website is a robust People section that showcases the firm’s leadership and their industry, service line and home office location.

Designed by Qorvis, Washington, D.C., Reznick’s new website uses the latest online media tools including Flash animation and video. Modern images and design add life to the firm’s services, industries and resource centers.
